Location

The subject is located in Bootle a town in the Metropolitan Borough of Sefton, Merseyside. It is approximately 3 miles north of Liverpool City Centre.

The property is situated on (A5098) Marsh Lane at its junction with Spenser Street. Marsh Lane provides connections to a number of A roads that link to surrounding north suburbs and the M57 and M58 motorways. Bootle New Road railway station is within 0.6 miles.

The immediate vicinity is mixed use in nature. Marsh Lane provides residential housing, a youth and community centre, shops, pubs, a primary school, and Marsh Lane Police Station.

Description

The property comprises a substantial mixed-use building with basement arranged over two storeys to the front, and three storeys to the rear, with a separate detached warehouse.

The main building is predominantly L-shaped and has been merged with adjoining properties and converted to provide a mix of office and industrial accommodation. The current internal layout provides offices and a workshop and storage to the ground floor, offices to the first and second floors, and storage to the basement.

Externally, there is a secure concrete yard and a small tarmac car park to the east side of Spenser Street. Both the main building and car park are accessed via Spenser Street.
